Health Care Decision Support, Online

The following online tools, provided by Subimo®, are available to help you make better-informed health care decisions. Each tool is available in both English and Spanish languages.

Researching Hospitals

The Hospital Advisor™ tool provides hospital data to help you research and compare hospitals side-by-side for specific procedures or types of care based on factors that are important to you (i.e., clinical quality, experience and outcomes, patient safety standards, reputation, and characteristics).

Researching Physicians

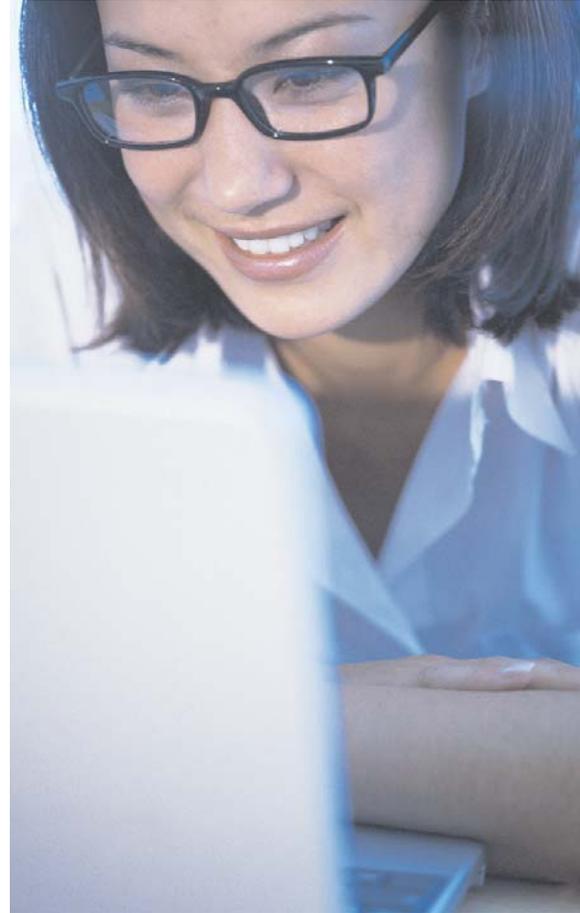

With the Physician Selection Advisor™ tool you are able to view and compare physician attributes (i.e., demographics, education, training, affiliations, certifications, sanctions). Plus, this tool provides physician quality performance and cost data, wellness tools, and the ability to create a personalized physician directory.

Researching Medical Conditions and Procedures

Healthcare Advisor™ is a tool that provides you access to personalized health care information to help you evaluate your health care choices. It includes over 150 conditions and procedures, suggested questions to ask your doctor and insurer, a chat room to give and get advice, and links to other online resources.

Researching Treatment Costs

The Treatment Cost Advisor™ is a handy resource which provides you with estimates for health care and drug costs based on a claims database of 456 million paid claims for specific health care services and drug categories (i.e., medical procedure estimates, types of service, differences between in- and out-of-network, and national averages).
